

It is with deep sadness that must report the death, yesterday, of Jan Simonsen, one of the founders of CyDen. Jan suffered a massive brain hemorrhage, from which recovery was impossible.

We will all miss Jan professionally but, even more deeply, we will miss his friendship, his intellect, his enthusiasm ... and his basic goodness. He was a unique individual, capable - as he demonstrated time after time - of truly disruptive creativity ... with a smile on his face. He could 'paint pictures on the moon' ... and inspire others to build on his work.

Jan leaves a wife and two children at their home in Denmark ... and friends around the world. We will all miss him.
